

Steve Moses

Steve Moses is a lifelong resident of Harrison County, Kentucky. He is a 1967 graduate of Harrison Co. High School and an honorably discharged veteran of the US Army, having served in Vietnam for 14 months. He is a retired KY state transportation employee, and since retiring has devoted his time to farming, running a small business and volunteering in many organizations. He is a member of the Bluegrass ADD transportation committee, magistrate of the 2nd district in Harrison County, chairperson of the Healthy Communities grant committee for Harrison County and has worked tirelessly with the young people of the county for which he was named Volunteer of the Year for the school system in 1993.

He is a member of the Cynthiana Gideon Camp and has been a Sunday School teacher at Mt. Hope Methodist Church for 32 years. He was also named Citizen of the Year by the Harrison Co. Chamber of Commerce in 2005 and is currently a mayoral candidate. Steve and his wife Marsha have been married for 37 years and have 2 children, Dr. Stephen Moses (Cassie) and Emily Moses Mandell (Tim). See note below.

(In addition to Steve coming, 3 members of WEDCO and the Healthy Communities committee will also be attending and participating in the presentation. They are Janie Whitehead, Carol Carson and Tony Hall.)
